PALM BEACH COUNTY

Economic Overview

The current economic indicators for Palm Beach County point to a vibrant and healthy economy -- one that is growing and thriving. Encompassing more than 2,000 square miles, Palm Beach County is one of the largest in the eastern United States and the third-largest in Florida.

Of 3,100 counties nationwide, Palm Beach County is one of a select group of only 22 to earn the highest possible bond rating, AAA, by all three of the major rating agencies, Moody's Investors Services, Fitch, and Standard & Poor's. Palm Beach County is also the only county in Florida to have earned this designation.

Fitch described Palm Beach County as one of the nation's wealthiest counties, with per capita personal income levels nearly 50% higher than state and national averages. The ratings firm said its grade reflects Palm Beach County's vital and diversifying economic base, sound financial position, and moderate debt levels. As for its economic base, Fitch noted our strengths in luxury tourism, technology manufacturing, and agriculture

Forbes ranks Palm Beach County among the top nationwide in growth, with Palm Beach County's metropolitan areas as number 12 among the fastest-growing cities in the US. Forbes ranks West Palm Beach among the best places for business and careers, and Bloomberg News reported that Palm Beach County contains the third-richest ZIP code in the country.

Palm Beach County's commitment to job growth and business development is paying off for taxpayers, municipalities, and companies who relocate here. Current rankings show that Palm Beach County is breaking records, attracting smart employers and rapidly growing as a business hub.

Palm Beach County outpaces the nation in job and wage growth as companies, entrepreneurs and financiers are attracted to its business-friendly tax climate and low costs of operating.

Kelly Smallridge, President and CEO of the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County, says "Palm Beach County is attracting companies in financial services, healthcare, aerospace and distribution, as well as corporate headquarters. Palm Beach County offers several million square feet in commercial space under construction, a deep talent pool, proximity to commercial and private international airports, the high-speed Brightline rail service and a lifestyle that is unmatched."

The Facts

- Palm Beach County is larger in land area than two states: Rhode Island and Delaware. It is Florida's second-largest county in area, covering over 2,000 square miles.
- Palm Beach County is approximately 60 miles north of Miami and 150 miles southeast of Orlando. The Atlantic Ocean borders the eastern half of the county, creating 47 miles of beaches, stretching from north to south. The northwest part of the county includes Lake Okeechobee, the second largest freshwater lake in the United States.
- Within the County, which is also known as The Palm Beaches, are 39 distinct cities and towns. The largest is West Palm Beach, which has a population of 108,689. Boca Raton is second with 94,576 residents, followed by Boynton Beach, 75,995; Delray Beach, 67,249; Jupiter, 64,301; and Wellington, 63,206.

Access and Transportation

- By Plane: Ranked one of the most convenient, stress-free airports in the country, Palm Beach International Airport (PBI) is located just 2.5 miles from top resorts, pristine beaches, the Palm Beach County Convention Center and Convention Center Hotel, and West Palm Beach's thriving downtown district. PBI has nearly 200 daily non-stop arrivals and departures to more than 25 destinations in the US, Canada and the Caribbean on 13 domestic and international airlines. PBI serves over six million passengers each year, and was voted sixth best airport in the U.S. by the readers of the prestigious Conde Nast Traveler magazine in 2016.
- By Car: Travelers can follow either Interstate 95 or Florida's Turnpike, which run the length of the county and feature multiple exits at or near major streets. U.S. 441, U.S. 1, and coastal highway S.R. A1A also run through the county.
- By Rail: Passengers can travel on the Brightline, a high-speed passenger train that connects West Palm Beach to Downtown Fort Lauderdale and Downtown Miami, and will eventually connect to Orlando.

Entertainment

- The Kelsey Theater - Located in Lake Park's downtown corridor, Kelsey Theater is known for showcasing national talent. It is the only 500 capacity venue between Fort Lauderdale and Orlando.
